Dear Alumnae and Friends,

We are excited to present you with a wonderful opportunity to join fellow alumnae from Smith and Bryn Mawr Colleges aboard the 130-passenger Yorktown on an exclusive, educational voyage along the coast of Belize, Guatemala, and the Yucatan. Due to the relatively short notice for this voyage, which is a late addition to our 2014 travel calendar, we are pleased to offer rates that are more than 50% below the usual price level, in every cabin category. We are also waiving the single supplement for solo travelers. With such attractive incentives, we hope you will join fellow alumnae on this rewarding winter voyage.

Few areas of the world offer more diversity for exploration, adventure, and relaxation than Central America’s Caribbean coast. Here, you can swim and snorkel in the crystal-clear waters off Belize’s Barrier Reef, glimpsing the brightly colored fish and sea creatures that inhabit one of the largest marine systems in the world. You can spot rare plants, flowers, birds, and wildlife as you hike the nature trails within Cockscomb Basin Wildlife Sanctuary. And when you travel deep within Belize’s and Mexico’s tropical forests, you can explore the seldom-visited Maya sites of Quirigua, Lubaantun, Altun Ha, Kohunlich, and picturesque Tulum—with ruins set spectacularly atop 39-foot cliffs overlooking deep turquoise waters.

Your home for this voyage of discovery is the Yorktown, a small and intimate ship that is able to visit these unspoiled, out-of-the-way bays, islands, coral reefs, and villages that are not accessible to passengers on mega-cruise liners. Expert study leaders, noted on the facing page, will join you onboard to present a program of lectures and discussions, adding valuable insights into the legacy of the Maya and the natural history of the region.

Treasures of Belize, Guatemala, and the Yucatan promises to be an enlightening voyage into a world so removed from modern society, and yet, so close to home. Join us and other co-sponsoring institutions, including the Archaeological Institute of America, the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia, and Fordham University in February 2014 to explore the tropical islands, rain forests, and ancient sites of this fascinating region—at an exceptional value!

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Bigwood

Yorktown

Yorktown is the perfect vessel for relaxed and convivial exploration of Central America. Built in Florida in 1988 specifically for coastal cruising and certified by the U.S. Coast Guard, Yorktown flies the American flag and is staffed by friendly and experienced American officers and crew. With a draft of 9 feet, Yorktown is able to maneuver in secluded waterways and visit small ports that are inaccessible to larger vessels. In addition to a large sun deck, Yorktown boasts a spacious lounge for social gatherings and lectures as well as quiet space for private conversation. The ship’s cuisine, served in a dining room large enough to accommodate all guests at once, emphasizes American regional culinary traditions and specialties. Both the lounge and dining room are surrounded by large picture windows. Accommodating 130 guests, the ship’s 65 exterior cabins are furnished with comfortable beds and have a private bathroom. Yorktown enjoys an atmosphere of warm and relaxed informality that endears it to repeat and new guests alike.
