TELLING YOUR SMITH STORY OF SUPPORT

STAFF CAMPAIGN LANGUAGE:
With a goal of $450 million, Women for the World: the Campaign for Smith is a defining initiative that will secure the resources Smith College needs to reimagine the liberal arts for the 21st century, sustain its academic excellence, and provide students today and in the future with the skills and habits of mind needed for leadership in a complex world.
-Campaign Volunteer Guide

STAFF SMITH FUND LANGUAGE:
When you give to the Smith Fund, you're giving more than money. You give opportunity and support to women prepared to take their place as leaders and innovators in ever-increasing numbers. You don't need a fortune to participate. Every gift counts.

THREE THINGS THAT SMITH HAS GIVEN YOU:

1. ______________________________________
2. ______________________________________
3. ______________________________________

SHARE YOUR SMITH STORY:
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________