Shakespeare’s Italy
Exploring the Bard’s Favorite Italian Towns with Provost Katherine Rowe
June 11-19, 2017

Travel with Smith Provost Katherine Rowe while analyzing many of Shakespeare’s greatest works and taking in-depth tours of the atmospheric Italian cities and countryside that animated his plays. Also learn about Italian culture, life, and literature during Shakespeare’s lifetime, studying the beauty and the decadence that reflected the end of the Renaissance.

Spend a full week in the freshly remodeled four-star Hotel Campo Marzio in lovely Vicenza. Day trips include Palladian villas, the great Gonzaga ducal city of Mantua, the stately university city of Padua, Romeo and Juliet’s hometown of Verona, and the hidden jewel of Ferrara.

Estimated Price: $4,995 Land

FOR MORE INFORMATION:
Liz Bigwood
Director for Smith Travel
Tel: (413) 585-2029
Email: alumtrav@smith.edu

Special Highlights:

• An extended private opening of Giotto’s frescoes in the Scrovegni Chapel

• A private visit to Palladio’s legendary Villa La Rotonda with the owner

• Dinner with a delightful local couple at their fairytale-like riverside estate

• Readings, lectures, and insights of English literary scholar Katherine Rowe

Photos: (top) Teatro Olimpico by Bradley Griffin; (bottom left) Villa Almerico Capra, La Rotonda, by Jiuguang Wang; and (bottom right) Giotto’s Meeting at the Golden Gate (detail) in the Scrovegni Chapel